the Japanese in Their Advance.

FINEST HARBOR IN THE FAR EAST

Millions of Dollars Had Been Spent to Make It a Perfect
Location for Docks, Warehouses and Railroads.

[Special by Scripps-McLae.]

St. Petersburg, May 13.—Dainy, the first city reared by the czar, has been blown up by the Russians. The czar yesterday received two dispatches from Viceroy Alexieff announcing the destruction of the place. The first said that the engineers had blown up the docks and piers, which were erected at a cost of 10,000,000 roubles. The second dispatch indicated that the whole city had been destroyed by torch and powder.

The reason semi-officially advanced for shattering the docks and piers was that such action would impede the landing of a Japanese force at Dainy, but when the news of the complete destruction of the city was received it was regarded ominously as indicating a desperate situation, and still gloomier news is now feared.

The city was much excited last night over persistent rumors that there is heavy fighting at Port Arthur, but the officials refuse either to affirm or deny reports.

Make a Dash

Chefoo, May 13.—The report reaches here that the Russians have succeeded in partially removing the obstructions from the mouth of the harbor and that the effective vessels in the Russian squadron are being prepared for a dash through the Japanese cordon. They can at least sink some of Admiral Togo's fleet before they themselves go down.

Another rumor which is persistent but which cannot be confirmed is that a joint land and sea attack is being made on Port Arthur and that the Russian advance posts are being gradually forced in. "No definite news reached here yesterday of Kuroki's movements. It is currently reported that the Taku-Shan column is almost at Hai-Cheng, where there is believed to be a considerable force of Russians, consisting of the troops withdrawn from New Chwang and the Taku-Shan peninsula. Kuroki is believed to be waiting for the attack on Hai-Cheng to get into touch with the column coming up from Kwan-Tien before delivering his attack on Lai-Yang. From Antung comes a report that the total Russian losses in killed, wounded and prisoners since the passage of the Yalu on May 1 has been considerably above 5,000 men.

Grant Peace

Berlin, May 13.—News have been received here that the peace bureau in Bern has sent a note to the government of Russia and Japan, which has caused no little sensation. In this note it is pointed out that the present war hurts materially the vital interests of both countries and that, if it is not soon stopped, it may prove fatal to the welfare of Russia as well as of Japan. Also countries further away from the scene of war are beginning to feel the injurious effects of the war, and all undoubtedly wish that some one would take the initiative toward the re-establishing of peace. The peace bureau prays the ruling powers in St. Petersburg, and in Tokio, that they do everything possible to arrive at a peaceable solution of the conflict. I hear that the steamer Columbia, which was recently bought by the Russian government from the Hamburg-American line has left for the port of Lihau to be ready to be used as an auxiliary cruiser.

Cyril III

St. Petersburg, May 13.—Grand Duke Cyril's whole nervous system and his heart are somewhat seriously affected as the result of his experiences at the time of the blowing up of the battleship Petropavlovsk off Port Arthur April 13. The official report of his medical attendants says the grand duke will require the closest attention and most careful treatment. His cure, the doctors say, will be a difficult and tedious process.

Japan Loses Vessel

London, May 13.—A dispatch to Reuters from Tokio says that the Japanese torpedo boat No. 48 was destroyed yesterday while removing mines at Kerr Bay, north of Taiten killed, seven injured. This, adds

NORTH BORNEO REBELS
MURDER MEN AND WOMENMissionaries Report the Massacre of 130 Persons in Night Attack on Little British Colony.

Victoria, B. C., May 13.—Missionaries who were passengers on the liner Empress of India bring advices of an atrocious massacre at a little colony on the west coast of British North Borneo, at Kawang railway station, midway between Jesselton and Papar, March 31. A band of rebels from the interior are credited with killing 130 men, women and children, most of them Chinese coolies, but a few English, wounding many others and burning the houses and huts.

Entire Charge

Seoul, May 13.—General Haraguchi, commanding here, is to be given entire control of Korea, as soon as the first army corps have entered Manchurian territory. Scouting parties continue to deploy through the country between Ping-Yang and Wiju, fearing a Russian flank movement.

Second Corps

Shanghai, May 13.—Advises received here state the second Japanese army of seventy thousand sailed from Chinampo on the eighth and three transports on the fourth instant. The destination of this force is believed to have been Liaoning peninsula and Takushan.

Russians Ruin an Entire City

St. Petersburg, May 13.—Following Viceroy Alexieff's dispatch to the czar informing him that the docks and piers at Port Danly had been blown up presumably to render a Japanese landing at that place as difficult as possible, came the news that the Russian forces had destroyed the whole city rather than have it fall into the hands of the enemy.

A rumor is current here that fighting is in progress at Port Arthur, but there is no official news confirming the reports.

City Was Russia's Pride.

Port Danly is on Taitenwan bay, east coast of the Liao-Tung peninsula. It was intended by Russia to be the chief commercial emporium of the czar's eastern dominions. An edict providing for its construction was issued by the emperor July 30, 1899. Port Danly, fully equipped with all modern improvements, docks, warehouses and railroad facilities was opened to commerce in December, 1901.

Taitenwan bay is one of the finest deep water harbors on the Pacific. It is free from ice in winter and ships drawing thirty feet of water can enter at low tide without difficulty and without aid of pilots can sail or steam alongside the docks, where their cargoes can be loaded into railroad cars and run direct for 6,000 miles to St. Petersburg.

Dainy Had Fine Harbor.

Five large piers had been constructed each supplied with numerous railroad tracks and immense warehouses and elevators, gas, electric lights and water. A large breakwater was being constructed so that ships could lie at the piers and load and unload regardless of weather.

Over $6,000,000 had been expended on the harbor system before the end of 1902 and it was estimated that the cost of completing the works would be nearly $20,000,000. Nearly 25,000 men were employed daily in constructing the port and town. The total population has been estimated at about 60,000.

Japs Still Advancing.

Further progress of the Japanese in southern Manchuria is reported in the official dispatches. The position of the division which is following the direct road to Hai-Cheng has not yet been disclosed and caution is also apparent in operations on the peninsula of Liao-Tung, where 20,000 Japanese are seeking to render themselves secure in the western section of the peninsula and in the vicinity of and below Pitsewo before inaugurating the operations which have been planned.

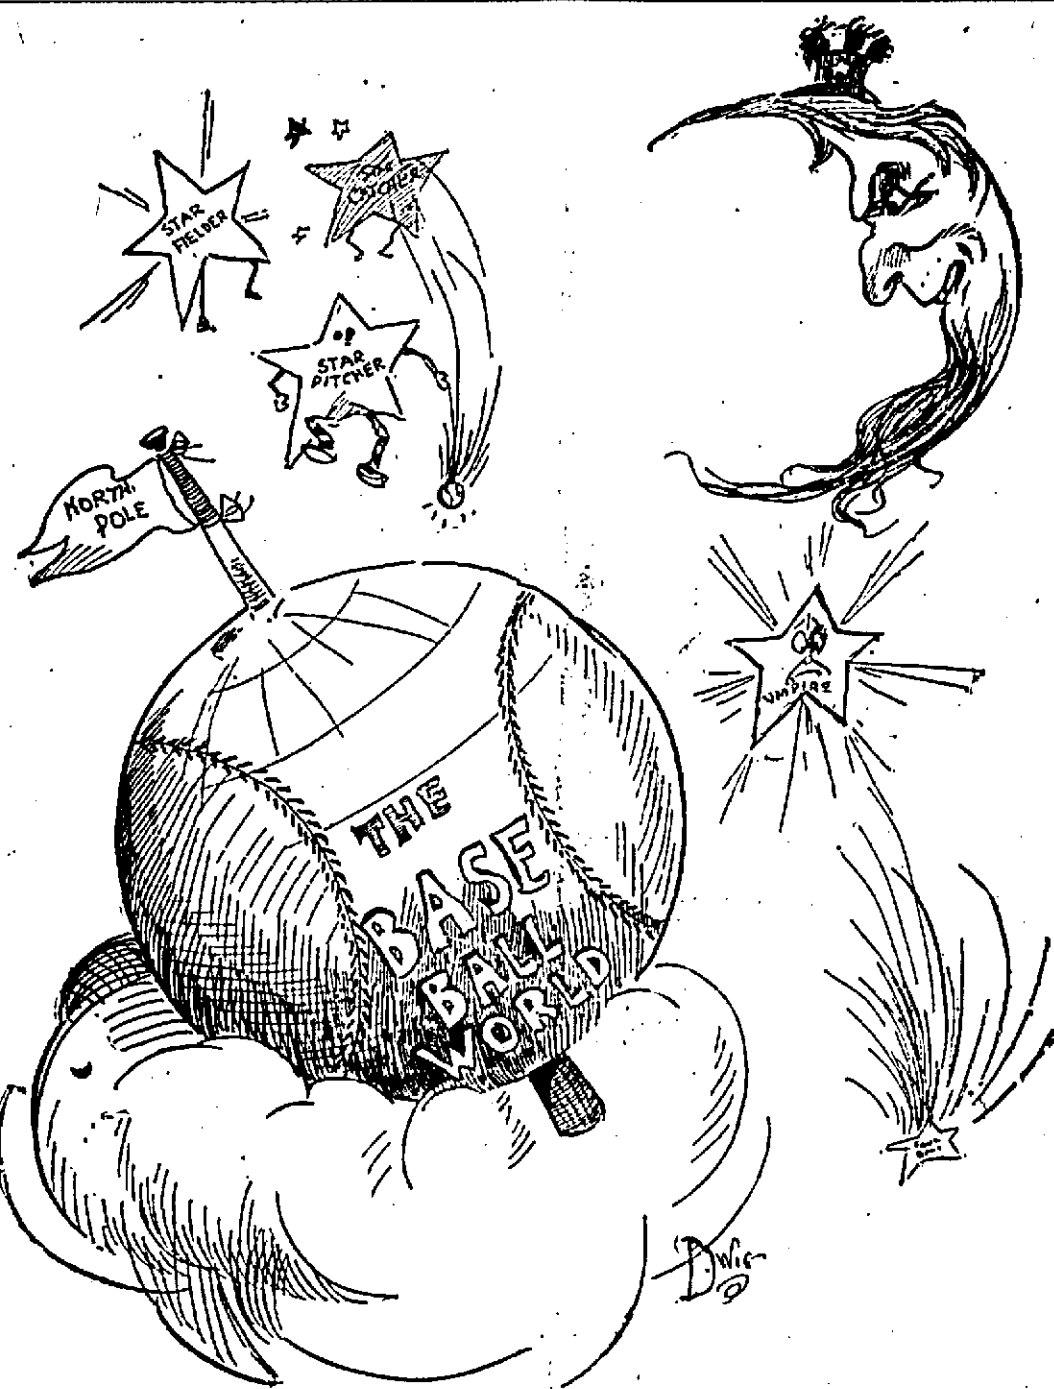

The report is current that the mikado, in answering a message of congratulation on the Yalu victory sent by students of the Institute of mines in St. Petersburg, expressed his thanks and good wishes, but praised God that he had no such subjects.

THE BASE OF THE WORLD

The rebels swept down on the colony at 10 o'clock at night. The band divided into two parts, one of 100 hiding in a reserve on the top of a hill, while the others rushed on the settlement. The wife and children of the stationmaster and the English railway driver and his wife were among those killed.

The rebels first attacked the inmates of the Chinese shops, the carnage finally becoming general and the men, women and children being butchered indiscriminately.

After burning the village the rebels departed, leaving many victims cruelly wounded and helpless amid the ruins of their homes. The survivors, one native fireman, the stationmaster and a few of the wounded coolies, escaped to Jesselton, from where the news was secured.

ALL TURMOIL IN SPRINGFIELD NOWQuestion as to Who Will Be the Next Republican Nominee for Governor of State.

[Special by Scripps-McLae.]

Springfield, May 13.—The state republican convention was called to order at ten-thirty this morning. The convention was in an uproar for thirty minutes cheering the respective candidates. The feeling between the Yates and Lowden factions is bitter. The chairman threatened to adjourn the convention unless order was restored. The committee on credentials reported, showing a victory for Yates in nearly all the contests. Lowden and Hamlin being the principal losers. Senators Cullom and Hopkins, Speaker Cannon and Governor Yates were chosen delegates at large to the national convention. The platform was then adopted. It calls for a maintenance of protective tariff for protection of individuals as against the trusts and monopolists and endorses the policy of the administration in the Philippines and the Panama canal. The delegates were instructed for Roosevelt, and Hitt endorsed for vice-president. Nominations began at eleven-fifteen.

Second ballot on the governorship was: Yates, 505 2-3; Lowden, 373; Donegan, 375 2-3; Hamlin, 112 2-3; Warner, 42 1-6; Sherman, 55 1-6; necessary to a choice, 752.

TRIAL BEGINS ON
MURDER CHARGENoted Rising Sun Case Opens This Morning—Gillespie Murder the Crime.

[Special by Scripps-McLae.]

Rising Sun, May 13.—Attorney McMullen began the opening statement for the state in the Gillespie murder trial this morning. The court room was crowded. McMullen created a sensation when he hinted of coming testimony in which a scandal would be revealed. He said it would be shown Miss Gillespie, the murdered woman, made statements which caused Mrs. Barbour to hate her and that the latter threatened to burn Miss Gillespie with vitriol.

Mrs. Margaret Gillespie, the mother of the principal defendant, was the witness for the state. She testified her daughter, Elizabeth, was carrying chairs into the parlor just prior to the shooting and that it was hardly dark when the shot was fired. She was in a rear room when she heard the report, and going into the parlor found her daughter lying on the floor, apparently dying. She did not see anyone about the house before or after the shooting until Myron Barbour came in answer to her call for help.

STATE NOTES

St. John's Universalist church, Oshkosh, is to be reopened after a suspension of two years.

The Pacific Lumber company, organized by O. H. Ingram of Eau Claire, is building a big saw and planing mill at South Bend, Wash.

Kenosha police officers are making an effort to discover the identity of a woman who ruined a long stretch of cement walk by walking through the soft cement.

The Monroeville river is now higher or than it has been for years. It has overflowed the banks in Marinette and the boom company has been forced to cease work.

There are over 100 cases of intestinal complaint at Oshkosh and the physicians assert that the disease is the result of germ infection derived from milk or water.

Thieves have entered the handsome new St. Rose church at Racine and stolen a valuable gold chalice belonging to the Rev. Father Thomas Johnson, which was presented to him by his mother, now dead, when he was ordained as priest.

Ripon and the third ward high school of Appleton May 19 will debate the question: "Resolved, That the candidates for elective offices in the state of Wisconsin should be nominated by direct vote of the people, the constitutionality of this being conceded." The debate will take place at Ripon.

Buffalo, N. Y., May 13.—Miss Marion Walton Gorham of Marshall, Mich., is dead, and the physician's report ascribes the cause to shock from over joy. Miss Gorham, who was attending a private school here, received an unexpected visit from her mother. She started toward her with an exclamation of joy and collapsed after taking a few steps. She was dead in a few seconds.

PARKER'S MEN
HAVE INDIANADemocrats Instruct Delegates to Vote as a Unit for the New York Man.

HEARST'S MEN ARE ALL OUTVOTED

Opponents Elected Chairman and Carry Matters on in a High Hand—Hearst Democrats Are Very Indignant.

[Special by Scripps-McLae.]

Indianapolis, Ind., May 13.—Amid scenes of excitement the plans of the Parker element, led by Thomas Taggart, were carried out in the Indiana Democratic state convention, which adjourned at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon. The Hearstites made no attempt to hold a rump convention, the vote electing Alonzo Greene Smith, permanent chairman, and the vote instructing the delegates to vote as a unit for Judge Parker in the St. Louis convention were almost identical with the figures predicted by Mr. Taggart.

The sole purpose of the convention was to elect delegates to the national convention, the state convention for nomination of candidates for state office having been called for July 20, when the same delegates that were in this convention, will return. A platform will then be adopted.

The Hearst followers had been wrought to a high pitch of determination by rousing addresses beforehand by the Rev. Sam Small of Georgia and C. A. Windle of Chicago. The Rev. Sam Small advised against voting for Parker if he were nominated.

Parker Forces in Majority.

The first vote on the organization of the convention showed the Parker forces to number 1,094 and the Hearst following 468. The vote on instruction for Parker was 954 to 582, many delegates being in sympathy with the plan of the Twelfth district that its two delegates be allowed to vote their sentiments for Hearst, that otherwise it might endanger the seat of Representative Robinson, Democratic congressman from the district. This was the only district of the thirteen carried by the Hearst following.

MISSING CHILD'S BODY IS FOUND IN CHIMNEYYoung Woman Gives Clue to Whereabouts of Corpse and Then Suddenly Disappears.

New York, May 13.—Wrapped in rags in a chimney at her home in Third avenue, the body of 6-year-old Josephine McCallill, who has been missing since May 2, was found May 12. The body was lodged near the top of the chimney and it was necessary to tear away part of the masonry to release it. It is thought that this body was placed there within a day or two. An examination of the body disclosed that it was badly decomposed, but that it had not been mutilated. It has been learned that children of the neighborhood have been accustomed to hide in the chimneys while at play on the roofs and the police now believe that the McCallill girl might have climbed onto the chimney and fallen into it.

Twice before the body was found, a well-dressed young woman called at the McCallill home and said that she had a presentiment that the child would be found in the chimney. On her second visit she expressed surprise that a search of the chimney had not been made on her previous suggestion. She refused to give her name or address and the police are now trying to find her. It was after her second visit that the investigation was made which resulted in the finding of the body.

After leaving her home on May 2 to play in the street the child was seen in Third avenue with a man, described as tall and dark. She had a bag of candy in her hand, but was crying. That is all the police have had to work on. Their search had proceeded on the belief that the man was an Italian and that the girl would eventually be found in one of the Italian colonies in this or some nearby city.

Milked by Electricity.

The Umschau claims for the process of milking cows by electricity (rubber caps being attached to the udders) the advantage of superior cleanliness, and adds that the cows more readily yield the milk than when the hands are used.

Monarch's Patience Gave Out.

Frederick the Great employed architects to build him a library, but they fought with true professional etiquette over their designs. The monarch who had braved the night of Europe in arms was not to be defeated by a parcel of nagging professional men. "Confound you," said the king, "don't waste any more time; this cupboard opposite me is of a very good design; copy that." They did as they were ordered.

A feature of the convention was the demonstration that followed the mention of the name of George B. McClellan of New York. The cheering lasted for several minutes, several hundred delegates and spectators rising and waving hats and handkerchiefs.

The chair announced that the first question to be settled would be the organization of the convention and no recommendations for delegates at large would be read till the convention was organized. An effort was made by the Hearst following through Senator Ulrey of Fort Wayne to appeal from the chair. There was great confusion, but the chair refused to recognize anyone, and Mr. Alken moved the adoption of the minority report, which recommended Judge James McCabe of Williamsport for chairman. On this a call of counties was ordered. This brought out the first test of strength. The vote resulted 468 to 1,094, and Mr. Smith took the chair.

When Chairman Smith arose to speak he was greeted with hisses and groans by the Hearst men.

Senator Johannes Kopelke of Crown Point furnished one of the sensations of the convention when he said:

"I find that the proceedings which resulted in my election as vice president were outrageous and I do not care to accept honors or preferment coming in such a way, even though in the interest of the candidate I favor."

The followers of Hearst have been collecting evidence which they say will be presented at the national convention to prove their claims that they were not given fair treatment. Contests from the Second, Sixth, Tenth and Thirteenth districts will be carried to St. Louis.

LONE DEPUTY SHERIFF
FIGHTS SEVEN THIEVESMen Board Trains and Throw Goods
Overboard, Securing Thousands of Dollars' Worth of Plunder.

Racine, Wis., May 13.—Deputy Sheriff Thomas Burns of Mount Pleasant had a gun fight with seven thieves two miles south of Corliss. The men boarded the train at Chicago and at Wordsworth, Kenosha county, stalled the train and stole about $350 worth of goods billed for Milwaukee.

When a point near Corliss was reached they again stalled the train and $3,000 worth of silks, dressing cases and other goods were taken from the train and piled on the side of the track.

The men showed fight and Burns fired three times, capturing one. The man who was captured was brought to this city and gave his names as George Mason. He made a full confession at the county jail and told who his partners were. He stated that they had been in the business about three months and had stolen thousands of dollars' worth of goods from the country.

The crew of the train state that when the train reached Caledonia it was again stalled by the men and that more goods are believed to have been taken.

Death of Noted Badger.

Richmond, Wis., May 13.—Ward S. Williams, first mayor of this city and prominent business man, died of paralysis, aged 63 years. He was born in Maine and lived for a number of years in California, where he was a member of the legislature under Gov. Stanford's administration.

Reward in Passes.

The Southern railway proposes to furnish to engineers and conductors annual passes of the road on the basis of service. Those who have been five years in the service are to be given annuals, good over the division on which they are employed; those having ten years to their credit are to receive annuals good over the entire line, and the wives of those who have served fifteen years will be included in the privilege.

Seeks to Retrieve Fortune.

This advertisement recently appeared in the London Times: "Will any rich lady or gentleman (perhaps with kin) make settlements upon, or bequests to, the members of a family recently reduced in circumstances? ## STRANGE STORY ABOUT MILITIA

GOVERNOR'S GUARDS AT MADISON TO BE READY.

MAY ACT AS POLICEMEN

Story from Madison Regarding the Coming State Convention That is Very Lurid.

The spectacle of military rule at a state political convention is promised by the situation in the republican factional fight in Wisconsin and arrangements that have already been made to have the Governor's Guard of Madison in readiness to assist in preserving order in the state convention a week from today. The gubernatorial caucuses in the state are almost over, only 13 of the 71 counties remaining to hold their primaries. The situation now is practically determined. Governor La Follette will have within 50 of the 533 delegates necessary to control and the opposition will be substantially even with the governor, with respect to uncontested delegates. There will be approximately 10 votes in the convention in contest and upon the determination of these contests will depend the control of the convention. According to the procedure in this state central committee decided the contests for seats. This committee stands 19 to 4 in favor of the La Follette or administration faction and will, if the governor suggests that it is necessary, decide every contest in his favor. There is no other indication in sight but that this will be done. The stalwarts, composed of the opposition to Governor La Follette's third term campaign, have let it be directly known that they will walk out of the convention in the state central committee "steals" the control of the convention by deciding contests uniformly in favor of the administration faction. They announce that they will hold their own convention with a majority composed of undisputed stalwart delegates and rightfully elected, though contested delegates. They will choose delegates at large to the national convention, nominate a set of state officers, formulate a state and national issue platform and name presidential electors for Wisconsin. To seat their delegates in the national convention they will make their representations to the national convention committee on credentials, and to get their state nominees and presidential electors on the regular republican ticket in Wisconsin they will bring an action in the courts of this state. John M. Corn, one of the most prominent attorneys in Wisconsin, has been retained by the stalwart leaders to advise them in their actions.

It is learned from Madison followers of the administration that the governor will do nothing to prevent the opposition from walking out of the regular convention, but he is determined that the state central committee shall do all in its power to swell the administration vote in the convention. This will doubtless be done and it is what will cause the trouble. At this point in the state convention program violence seems scarcely to be avoided.

Capt. John P. Joslin and Louis J. W. O'Connell and C. M. O'Connell, the commissioners of the Wisconsin National Guard, stationed at Madison, and called the Governor's Guard, have received instructions through the proper channels to have their men assembled and in readiness to respond to a riot call at the university gymnasium May 18, the time and place of the republican convention. The company will be ready. It is passed out that the order is merely for emergency purposes, but the extreme seriousness of the situation, and the bitterness and determination of the rival republican factions indicates that the soldiers will have at least important police work to do.

Adolph K. Kayser is sergeant at arms of the convention and the military order is announced as having been given to provide him with necessary assistance in maintaining order in the convention. For this has been suggested that if one faction is defeated for control, through the action of the state central committee, its delegates may not immediately and peacefully bolt out of the gathering, but will create a "roughhouse," remaining to fight and yell in order to make an orderly procedure by the majority impossible, or perhaps trying to physically carry opposing delegates out of that hall. The order for the Governor's Guard to be in readiness has caused some violently thinking people to suggest that Governor La Follette is determined to enforce his principles and himself upon the convention even if he has to do it with the assistance of bayonets. There is no foundation for such a suggestion. The university corps of cadets was at first suggested for police duty at the convention but was not accepted because of being unwieldy and composed of young and excitable students.

REFORM-FOOD MAN ATE DOPED WAFER

Intended for Destruction of Rats—Janesville Episode Repeated in Madison.

The rat poison episode which happened in Janesville a few days ago has been duplicated in Madison. By eating a poisonous rat-baiter, intended for the destruction of an army of rodents, J. H. Bramhall, manager of the Madison branch of the Battle Creek Sanitarium, had a narrow escape from death.

cape from death. He was in the hospital storeroom and inadvertently ate a doped wafer, becoming violently ill shortly after. Dr. C. B. Farnsworth, the physician in charge of the sanitarium, hastily applied antidotes and the patient is now practically assured of recovery. The Madison branch of the sanitarium was built a year ago and so attractive has it been to patients that it will be doubled during the coming season. Dr. Farnsworth and Manager Bramhall are well-known throughout this and neighboring states.

WILL START WORK ON IOWA LIBRARY

At Once, and Local Contracting Firm Will Probably Be Occupied There for Sixteen Months.

John Cullen of the contracting firm of Cullen & Winchester returned last evening from Council Bluffs, Iowa, where he secured the contract for building the $70,000 Carnegie library building. The edifice will be of Italian brick with cut stone trimmings and will be somewhat similar to the Janesville library in its general appearance. Work will be commenced at once and sixteen months will probably be required for the building. The Clinton, Iowa, library has just been completed by the same firm and will be opened next week. A $20,000 Odd Fellows' block in Dixon, Ill., has also just been finished by the Janesville contractors.

ANOTHER PRIZE STORY AWARDED

Rena Merrifield the Author of the Following Story, Awarded a Dollar Prize.

Mrs. Stay's Resolution
"I do wish you would put up that book, John. You are always reading, it seems to me. I don't want you to be like that Richard boy, always sitting around with his nose in a book." John put up his book and went out and did his chores.
"I do wish mother would let me read more," he said to himself. "I hardly ever sit down and take up a book but what mother finds something for me to do, so I shall not read. I cannot go to college, and she will never let me study at home. I wonder why she is so opposed to my studying."

Mrs. Stay, John's mother, had a little sister of whom she was very fond, but she was weak and not able to do much work and was very fond of reading, so she had all the books she wanted and read most of the time. Mrs. Stay was good for her, which resulted in her having a curvature of the spine, of which she died.

Mrs. Stay declared that John should not make a fool of himself by reading so much, and tried to prevent him from reading all she could, so when John announced his intention of going down town after supper she said nothing, for she knew if he staid at home he would want to read.

"There is going to be a reading contest at the schoolhouse next week," said John, the next morning. "Do you want to go mother?"
Mrs. Stay said she did not know; she did not think much of these contests, but perhaps she would go.

But when the time came she had a headache and could not go, so John went alone.
"Oh, here comes John," cried the boys in chorus. "I wonder what he wants to try for," said Ned Brown, the boy whom everyone thought would receive the prize.

The one that had read the most books and could give the best outline of each book received a prize.
Every night that John went to town was spent in the library reading although his mother did not know it. John was going to try for the prize and it was with a fast beating heart that he walked to the schoolhouse.

John's turn came last and Ned's next to last, so when Ned got up and named and described forty-five books, more than anyone else, everybody said he had won the prize and they did not see any use in the Stay boy trying.

But John surprised them—he got up and named forty-four, hesitated, named one more, then stopped for about five seconds, then said quietly, "Shakespeare," which made forty-six. John received the prize and there was much applause when he sat down. John wondered what his mother would say when she found he had received the prize.

"Who won the prize?" asked his mother when John got home.
"I did."
"You did? Why, John?"
Then John told her how he had studied at the library nights when he was downtown. Mrs. Stay was silent a few minutes and then said slowly, "It did not hurt you to study downtown, it will not hurt you to study at home. You can go to college next term. If you want to."

"O, mother," was all John said, but it was enough.

CURRENT NEWS NOTES

Given a Scholarship: Victor Grant Marquette of Altoona, Wis., a graduate of the Janesville high school and a nephew of Francis Grant of this city, has been awarded a scholarship in political science at the University of Wisconsin. He is a member of the senior class and was one of nine to receive this honor.

Won by A. C. Larsen: Mr. A. C. ## LOCAL DEMOCRATS STAND BY WALL

Hearst Men Failed To Carry a Single Ward in the Caucuses Last Night.

Janesville was carried for Edward Wall in the caucuses held last evening. The Hearst sentiment made a strong showing only in the fourth ward. The county thirteen delegates to the democratic state convention at Milwaukee, May 17, will be held in the circuit court rooms in Janesville tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock. The Milwaukee convention will elect delegates to the democratic national convention to be held in St. Louis on July 6 for the purpose of nominating electors for president and vice-president.

First Ward
The following delegates were named in the first ward: J. P. Baker, C. C. MacLean, Henry Garbutt, and Henry Blank. The vote for Wall was 20, to 8 for Hearst.

Second Ward
In the second ward the vote was: Wall, 13; Hearst, 3. The delegates chosen were: H. McElroy, E. P. Wilson, James Connors, and J. F. Hutchison.

Third Ward
Wall received thirteen votes and Hearst three, in the third ward. The delegates were: George G. Sutherland, J. J. Cunningham, H. H. Ryan, and Warren Skelly.

Fourth Ward
In the fourth ward Wall carried the day by the slender majority of two. The vote was: Wall, 36; Hearst, 3. The delegates elected: I. C. Connors, P. C. Burpee, Thomas Selgel, and Edward Heanery.

First Ward
J. B. MacLean, George Craft, Edward Dermody, and Otto Rudolph were the delegates elected in the fifth ward. The vote was Wall, 26; Hearst, 6. The twenty Janesville delegates will all be for Wall.

Beloit for Hearst
Beloit named fifteen Hearst delegates and ten Wall delegates.

STATE FAIR WILL INVITE ATHLETES

To Participate in a Big Meet for High Schools and Academies This Fall.

Managers of the state fair propose to devote the opening day of the exhibition this fall to an athletic meet in which high schools and preparatory institutions of the state will be asked to compete. A carnival day is also contemplated. Charles B. Sammons and A. C. Clas of Milwaukee were appointed to ascertain whether or not the proper arrangements can be made with the high schools and academies to take part.

PATIENT IS FED THROUGH A TUBE

Russell Veh of Fort Atkinson, Is Suffering with Fractured Jaw at Palmer Hospital.

Liquid nourishment administered through a rubber tube is now sustaining the life of Russell Veh at the Palmer Memorial hospital. The man is suffering with a fractured jaw resulting from an accident sustained while at work in the factory of the Northwestern Manufacturing Co. at Ft. Atkinson. Upon being brought to Janesville he was taken to the dental office of Dr. R. R. Powell and later to the hospital where the fractured bones were set.

TRACK TEAM GOES TO WHITEWATER

On the 7:25 Train Tomorrow Morning—Relay Runners Made Good Showing.

Twenty high schools will compete in the southern Wisconsin athletic meet to be held at Whitewater tomorrow. The first event, the hundred yard dash, will be run off at nine o'clock tomorrow morning. Those who will represent Janesville are: Myers (captain), Fisher, Davis, Hoagene, Tallman, and Tracy. The delegation will leave on the 7:25 train tomorrow morning. The relay team ran in 4:01 Wednesday and it is anticipated that they will at least make a good showing.

AFTON IS SOLID FOR W. R. HEARST

Caucus Yesterday Was Attended by Five Qualified Voters Who Elected Four Delegates.

Enthusiasm was rampant at Afton yesterday when the democratic caucus was called at Brinkman's hall at 2:30 p. m. Hearst sentiment had gained such headway that the freeborn voters who flocked to the polls were unanimous in their sentiment. Joseph Williams, chairman of the democratic committee, organized the caucus with the assistance of Justice of the Peace John Klimer. On a careful count it was found that five qualified voters were present including the justices and officers, and of this number four were elected to the convention in Janesville.

Kegonsa Fishing Season

The Lake Kegonsa fishing season was never better than at the present time, owing to the cool weather that has prevailed during the spring. Phenomenal catches are being made. Kegonsa is an ideal spot, where game fish abound, and Ravenswood Park (formerly Graceland Park) has the only hotel on the lake open to the public. It is situated about a quarter of a mile from the C. M. & St. P. R. R. station. For accommodations write or telegraph A. E. Testal, Stouten, Wis., or call him up by telephone.

NEED BUT A FEW MORE VOTES NOW

CONSERVATIVES HAVE MADE GREAT GAINS RECENTLY.

FIGHT IS NEARLY OVER TODAY

One More Day of Caucuses and Then Comes the State Convention with All its Mysteries.

Unless the state central committee by some hook or crook rob the conservatives of counties that have afflicted the will of the electors of the county by voting for anti-La Follette delegates this is La Follette's last term as governor of Wisconsin as republican governor. Caucuses were held in Green, Kewaunee, Outagamie, Portage and Taylor counties yesterday, and the anti-La Follette candidates received twenty-eight and La Follette thirty-one of the delegates chosen. Kewaunee with seven delegates and Outagamie with 21 went for the conservatives and the other three by narrow margins elected La Follette delegates.

Good Lead
This gives the anti-La Follette delegates a total of 518 delegates and the La Follette delegates 480. This contest will all be decided by delegates where county caucuses have been held and La Follette men bolted when defeated to the conservatives excepting Grant county's 11 delegates, which were elected by a bolt on the part of the conservatives after they had been ignored in the county convention. In the organ of the governor these counties are all figured in the La Follette column as well as ten more delegates in Milwaukee county than they have on actual count. This, of course, swells the totals up to above the nominating figure.

Contested Counties
In Milwaukee county the La Follette men tried by placing conservative names on their tickets to compel them to vote for the governor. It was done in several cases where the men's names also appeared on the anti-La Follette ticket as well. In Ashland county there are twelve votes which La Follette men claim on the grounds that two of the delegates pledged themselves to vote for La Follette and then voted for anti-La Follette delegates at the state convention. The La Follette men bolted the convention and held a rump convention on advice from Madison in which they elected twelve delegates for the state central committee to act upon. In Eau Claire county the same thing was brought about and the argument used was identical with the Ashland county affairs. In Dodge county and Oconto county the claim is made that La Follette delegates were chosen by the caucuses but that the county convention turned the will of the people into a conservative victory. The four delegates from Pepin county are also claimed by La Follette, although there is little ground for dispute. Should the state central committee give all these counties to La Follette it will be a battle royal on the floor.

More Delegates
Gates county holds caucuses today with three votes. Two years ago these went to La Follette. Tomorrow is the last day of the caucuses. Bayfield with ten votes, Dunn with 12 votes, Lafayette with 11, Pierce with 14, Sawyer with 3 and St. Croix with 13, sixty-six in all, will decide the question. Two years ago Bayfield gave Whitehead five votes; Dunn, Whitehead one, and Pierce 7. It is thought that Bayfield, Dunn, Pierce and St. Croix counties will all be anti-La Follette this year and the result is being closely watched.

On Tuesday
On Tuesday next the state central committee meets in Madison to decide on contested delegations. The Janesville and entire Rock county delegation plan to go to Madison on that day and establish headquarters while the fight begins. Wednesday will be the first day of the convention but it is probable that the actual work will not begin until Thursday.

The C. M. & St. P. trains all stop at Lake Kegonsa to accommodate summer traffic and excursion rates can be secured at any time. The summer cottages are beginning to fill with the usual contingent of campers from Janesville, Beloit, Rockford, Monroe and other points.

A shippers' guide and index to the railroad commissioner's official map of Wisconsin is being published by Poor & Co. Every city and village in Wisconsin recognized by the United States government or by any railroad is listed in the volume, together with valuable information never before gathered together in a readily accessible form. At a glance the volume will tell the location and size of a place, its banking, telegraph and telephone facilities and the shortest billing route to it from any given point. Where there is no facilities, the nearest place where they can be found is given.

F. C. Lang, freight agent of the Northwestern at Ashland, has been appointed traveling freight and passenger agent for the same road for the district west of Fargo, N. D., vice A. M. Fenton, who has been appointed general agent at Helena, Mont.

The earnings of the Chicago & Milwaukee Electric for April were $2,802, and net earnings were $16,956. From July 1 the net earnings are $16,010.

The earnings of the Wisconsin Central for the first week in May were $100,000, an increase of $13,497. The earnings from July 1 show an increase of $82,973.

AMONG THE WORLD'S WORKERS

News Notes From Various Sources of Great Interest to the Workman.

In Bradford, Canada, there is a co-operative binding twine factory that is owned and operated by 8000 farmers. It was started 12 years ago. Last year it paid 34 per cent profit, and sold twine lower than any other twine company. The 8000 farmers are about to start a co-operative factory to manufacture their own farming machinery.

The strike on the Panama Railroad has been brought to an end, most of the laborers returning to work under the old conditions.

An Employers' Association has been organized at Mobile, Ala., the purpose being to guard the interests of general contractors in the building trades, and give employers that co-operation, which the need to keep down strikes and settle differences which may arise with workmen.

There is a peculiar cleavage between the mine owners and the miners' representatives on the Welsh Conciliation Board. The former claim a reduction of 5 per cent; the latter have given notice of a further 24 per cent advance, making a total of 5 per cent. Perhaps the latter move has for its object the retention of present wages.

In 1902 and 1903 there were 566 unions organized by the Brotherhood of Painters bringing the membership up to 70,000. The number of persons employed in the craft in the United States is given as 320,300, thus leaving something like 251,000 workmen unorganized. Efforts are being put forth to bring a large per cent of these into the union.

Journeymen plumbers in New Haven, Conn., have taken the initiative in a movement to secure a state law governing the licensing of plumbers and regulation of sanitary conditions in plumbing. Some years ago the plumbers made an attempt to get a similar act passed, in which they failed. Having now perfected their State organization and being thoroughly organized, they are confident of success.

Wholesalers in the leather industry at San Francisco, Cal., have refused to sign the wage scale for the coming year, and the leather workers' union on horse goods has gone on strike. The wage scale proposed is the one now in force, a 20 per cent reduction in wages. This strike will extend to Sacramento, Los Angeles, Portland, and several other coast cities.

The big plant of the Westinghouse Brake Company, of Wilmerding, Pa., resumed operations in full on April 18, employing 4,500 skilled men.

Card of Thanks
In behalf of my little daughter and myself, I wish to thank our many friends and neighbors for their many kindnesses and flowers sent during our sorrow.

La Crosse Chronicle: Ashland county went conservative. Of course the railroads did it. And the railroads admit it was the saintly Wisconsin Central that did it. The result was so long in coming that we think it must have been the Green Bay.

Washington Post: The pure optimist is the city man who does not grumble at the mud because he remembers that the rain that makes it also makes grass and big crops and gives Reuben an excuse to come to town and be relieved of his surplus.

It Costs You Nothing

King's Pharmacy and The Peoples Drug Company Will Return Your Money if Mi-o-na Does Not Cure You.

There are hundreds of people in Janesville who were not the least bit surprised when they read in the "Gazette" that King's Pharmacy and The Peoples Drug Company are selling Mi-o-na on a guarantee to refund the money in case it did not cure. This marvelous dyspepsia remedy will cure the worst case of indigestion, headache, dizziness or the general played out condition that afflicts every one suffering with stomach trouble. Mi-o-na does not simply relieve; it cures. King's Pharmacy and The Peoples Drug company can tell you of many well known people in this city whom this remedy has restored to health, often after they have tried many other methods of treatment with little or no benefit.

The best kind of advertising is the praise of a pleased customer. And there are hundreds in Janesville today praising Mi-o-na because it cured them. A few months ago they could eat nothing without wondering what the result would be. Since using Mi-o-na they eat with no fear or suffering.

This medicine is in the form of a small tablet, very pleasant to take and costs only 50c a box. It is a pure medicine that speedily and permanently cures all forms of stomach trouble and is the only one that can be sold under a positive guarantee without any restriction to refund the money if it does not cure.

Forty Years Ago...

Janesville Daily Gazette, Friday, May 13, 1864.—General Robinson who was reported wounded during one of the earlier engagements recently fought in Virginia, a brother-in-law of our townsman J. W. P. Cobb, Esq., and the general's wife we understand is now stopping with her friends in this city. The general is a gallant officer and we most sincerely hope that his injuries are not serious.

Hon. W. P. W. Cobb, of Alabama, member of the house of representatives, has been charged with disloyalty to the Confederacy and the committee of five members has been appointed to investigate the charge.

Jeff Davis' son, a boy four years of age, fell from the portico of his father's house on the 30th, fracturing his hip and died in less than an hour.

Court Room by the members of the Military company recruited by Mr. R. T. Lockwood for the one hundred days' service, the following named gentlemen were named as commissioned officers of the company: S. T. Lockwood, as captain; Gago Burge, as 1st Lieutenant; and Moses Devitt as 2nd Lieutenant.

The election of non-commissioned officers was postponed until some future time to be designated by the captain.

Another Company.—Janesville has been behind in furnishing men for the suppression of the rebellion, and her record of the past is not likely to be blamed by the present or future action. She has just raised one company for the one hundred days' service and Messrs. J. G. Kimball, and J. W. Smith have gone to work recruiting for another company, and we trust that they will have the cooperation of our citizens in their efforts.

truth of the saying that they who live please, must please, to live. Mirth was the first and almost the sole consideration in some of his plays, as 'A Comedy of Errors' and 'The Taming of the Shrew.' It could scarcely be urged that The Two Dromios convey any moral lesson, or that Petruchio presents a practical example of the way to win a woman. I should be sorry indeed if my performance should move any auditor to attempt the rugged methods by which the tempestuous Katherine was brought to show respect to her lord and master. There is of course a certain chivalry in Petruchio, for he never descends to physical violence, but it is an experiment which I am sure should be reserved for stage purposes only. Benedick, in 'Much Ado About Nothing' affords on the other hand a fine example of chivalry and an acute study of human nature. I doubt if there is anybody who has not had experience with young people who after positive declarations to the effect that matrimony was not for them, have succumbed to the tender passion and made most admirable spouses. Shakespeare fully appreciated the effectiveness of the costume play, and although his study of the modes of the periods he selected was not always thorough, the results were invariably picturesque. Mr. Handford will present 'The Taming of the Shrew' during his engagement at the Myers Opera house.

UNCLE SAM'S WONDERS

All Executive Departments Send Treasures to the World's Fair.

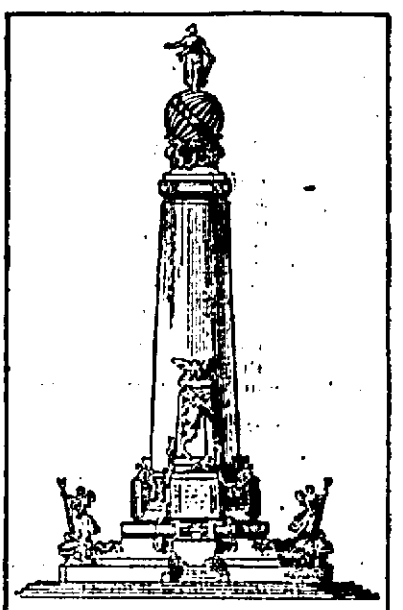

Display Installed in the Largest Governmental Exposition Building Ever Constructed—Precious Documents—Relics of Famous Statesmen and Soldiers. Working Postal Exhibit.

The United States Government building at the World's Fair occupies an elevated site just south of the main picture of the Exposition. The great central dome of the Government building is visible from the very center of the Fair, looking across the picturesque sunken garden that lies between the Palaces of Mines and Metallurgy and Liberal Arts.

The hill slope in front of the Government building is terraced with broad stairways almost completely covering the slope. The building is 800 feet long by 250 feet wide and is the largest structure ever provided at an exposition by the federal government. It is distinguished from all the other large buildings at the Exposition by the steel truss construction, the entire roof being supported by steel arches, forming a splendid domed ceiling.

In this building are installed the exhibits of all the executive departments of the government. The building is a vast storehouse of an endless variety of treasures dear to the heart of every true American. Precious documents are to be seen here, and the autographs of our great men of the past are on display. Relics of famous statesmen and soldiers, carefully preserved through generations, are exhibited. Each governmental department has installed an exhibit showing its official character and mode of operation.

Entering the Government building from the eastern end, the visitor sees at his left a railroad postoffice car. This is not a mere coach standing idle, but is one of the most improved mail cars, in which mail attached to the United States railway mail service are actively engaged in "throwing" the mails. Here you will see the postal clerks at work, just as they work while speeding along a railroad track.

A curious collection of old time relics from the postoffice museum at Washington illustrates as no verbal description can do the crude beginnings of the postal system. One of these relics is an old fashioned stage-coach that once carried United States mails through a portion of the Louisiana purchase territory. President Roosevelt, who once inspected it, examined with a rough rider's interest the bullet holes which stage robbers and mountain brigands shot through its stiff leather curtains. General Sherman and Sheridan and President Garfield rode in this old coach during the strenuous days of frontier life. Among the collection of documents showing the primitive postal methods in vogue in the early days is to be seen the old book of accounts kept by the first postmaster general, Benjamin Franklin, all written by hand. There is a rare collection of stamps, including ancient Filipino, Porto Rican and Cuban stamps. The postoffice department's exhibit occupies 12,400 square feet.

Across the aisle, at the right, is the exhibit of the new Department of Commerce and Labor, occupying 1,900 square feet. This exhibit shows what the new executive department stands for and what it is accomplishing. Mr. Carroll D. Wright, United States Commissioner of Labor, had charge of the preparation of the exhibit. Charts arranged by him, showing the rapid growth of the nation in agriculture, arts, manufacture, population, etc., are of special interest to sociologists and all students of the labor problem. The Census Bureau exhibit is made in this section. It shows the tabulating machines used in compiling the census reports. The Lighthouse Board, also operating under this department, shows the great revolving lenses in lighthouse, with other interesting appliances.

The space in the projecting north-west corner of the building is devoted to the Library of Congress. The edifice which houses this library at Washington is held by many architects to be the most beautiful building in the world. Its interior decorations, by Elmer Ellsworth Gurnsey, furnish one of the chief delights of a visit to the national capital. A large model of this splendid building is a feature of the exhibit. The decorative features of the interior are reproduced in their original colors.

The next exhibit on the right hand side of the central aisle is that of the Interior Department, occupying 11,732 square feet. In this large space the visitor finds so many things of compelling interest that he is loath to leave. The Patent Office exhibit belongs to this section. There are models of many machines that have borne an important part in the development of the nation's industries. The earliest form of every device of human invention, so far as possible, is shown here. For instance, you may see the actual sewing machine that was the first contrivance of its kind ever constructed; it was patented in 1810 by Elias Howe. The first typewriter, patented by C. Thurber in 1842; the model of the first cast iron plow, patented by Charles Newbold in 1797; the first screw propeller, invented by Robert Hook in 1680; and many other "first" things are to be seen. The model of Abraham Lincoln's celebrated device for lifting steamboats off shoals is shown here. The first harvesting machine, made in the year 1810 by C. C. is one of the most ancient exhibits at the Exposition. There is also a model of the first steam engine, made in Egypt in the same year.

CURIOUS THINGS FROM CHINA

The Most Magnificent Beds Ever Seen Are Part of the Celestial Empire's World's Fair Exhibit.

The Chinese exhibit at the World's Fair is filled with pleasing surprises. Some of the most magnificent articles of furniture are a part of this wonderful display. The carving and inlaying of ivory, bone and wood illustrate the marvelous skill of the Chinese. Models included in this interesting exhibit show the homes and home life of the Chinese, their weddings and funerals. Chinese tea house, restaurant and shop, Chinese weaving and some of the beautiful silks and wearing apparel of the Chinese and their methods of manufacturing them.

One feature of the exhibit is two magnificent Chinese beds, each of which has the appearance of being a small house of great beauty. One is a summer bed, the other for winter. The summer bed is hand carved and inlaid with ivory and bone figures and landscapes exquisitely carved and so skillfully joined as to appear a part of the wood. The bed and furniture are of carved bamboo. The bed consists of an anteroom, with tables, chairs and tea stands, and in an inner room, which is the sleeping apartment, there is a couch with coverings of gauzy silks.

The winter bed is still more elaborate. It consists of three compartments. The first contains four chairs, a tea tray and a chest of drawers. This is the sitting apartment. The second is the dressing room, and the third is the sleeping apartment, or the couch itself. The furniture is of rosewood inlaid with ivory carving of birds, flowers and trees. The couch is covered with silks of the finest texture and in gaudy colors. The sleeping compartments are lighted with Chinese lanterns of silk hung at the outer entrance, while the light enters through gauze panels, hand painted and in forms of rosewood inlaid with ivory figures.

A table and dish made of highly polished ash, with exquisitely carved bamboo figures inlaid, are shown. The work is so artistically done that each article seems to have been made of one piece of wood.

There is also a large display of Chinese lanterns made of silk, gauze and other light material and some made of beads artistically arranged with glass centers. The silk and gauze are beautifully hand painted.

There are models of some of the great Chinese temples, theaters and arches, showing elaborate carving in wood and ivory and two large elephant tusks exquisitely carved.

WHARFAGE FREE AT ST. LOUIS

Twenty Miles of River Front For War-tar Craft at World's Fair City. Free wharfage will be given to all boats landing at St. Louis during the World's Fair. Traffic Manager Hilary of the Exposition and Joseph P. Whyte, harbor and wharf commissioner of St. Louis, have decided on the locations assigned to the various kinds of boats.

Yachts, steam launches and all boats propelled by their own power have been assigned wharf space between Chouteau avenue and Middle street. These streets, running east and west, form the boundary lines for the central business district of the city.

House boats have been assigned wharf space north of Middle street and south of Chouteau avenue. St. Louis has a river front of twenty miles. The Broadway line of the Transit company parallels the river from the city limits on the north to Jefferson Barracks on the south. At no point are the cars more than five blocks from the Mississippi river. The World's Fair may be reached for one fare by transferring to any of the eight lines that cross Broadway and reach the Exposition grounds.

No charge will be made for wharfage. Application for space should be made to the harbor and wharf commissioner at the City Hall, on Twelfth street, between Market street and Clark avenue.

Choice of Fifty Tailored Suits at $12.

This is the opportunity which usually comes in August. However, explanations are unnecessary; suffice to say that from a life of fifty or more new, nobby Suits, every one of this season's manufacture, you can make a selection at twelve dollars and a half. As you will probably take a trip this summer, you might as well prepare in advance, then when you visit the St. Louis Exposition or any other point you will have the right thing. Many of the desirable fancy mixtures are in the line, also the plain colors—navy, brown and black. Certainly great bargains at such a price—$12. Alterations are free.

COVERT COATS

The season's favorite; a number of styles, but all good ones. This ad. refers to such tailored Coats as were $9, $10, $12 which are now on sale at choice for one price, $7. Also have plenty of the lower priced Coats at $5 and up, but the ones above are the best of their kind and you can take your choice now at $7-12.

Chicago, Ill., May 13.—At the sixth annual convention of Illinois letter carriers, held in the Warrington opera house at Oak Park, the following officers were elected: President, Thos. H. McCann, Rockford, re-elected; vice president, John Rudell, Peoria; secretary, M. T. Pinnau, Bloomington, re-elected; treasurer, C. C. Ives, Clinton; sergeant at arms, John W. Solomon, Springfield; chairman of different committees appointed are: Executive P. J. Carey, Rockford; organization, Carroll Deal, Danville; credentials, C. T. Donohoe, Chicago; auditing, J. W. Murray, Chicago. The convention next year will be held in Mattoon the second Thursday in May.

FORMER MAYOR SHORT $100,000

Trustees Say Deposit Box Did Not Hold Promised $27,000.

Davenport, Ia., May 13.—Trustees of the creditors of ex-Mayor S. F. Smith now say the total amount of his embezzlement will reach $100,000. A sensation followed the opening of the box in the safety deposit company's vaults where Mr. Smith was supposed to keep the securities in the Kelsor estate. This box, when opened by order of court, proved to contain but about $3,000 in questionable securities, instead of the $50,000 which Mr. Smith had claimed was there, making his shortage $27,000 instead of the $3,000 he had admitted. In the Sheaff estate investigation shows him short $25,000 instead of the $18,000 he owned to.

RUIN GOWNS BY COLLEGE JOKE

Underclassmen at Hamline Throw Live Roosters in Banquet Hall.

St. Paul, Minn., May 13.—Hundreds of dollars' worth of gowns were ruined by underclassmen at Hamline university when they threw six live roosters through open windows upon a long banquet table at which sat members of the senior class. The birds landed just as chocolate in tall china cups had been served. Several of the cups were upset upon the gowns of the young women, at the table.

PROVIDES HOME FOR ORPHANS

Woman Gives Farm Near Nachusa, Ill., Into Keeping of Church.

Nachusa, Ill., May 13.—Mrs. Mary E. Shippert, a comely little woman, is establishing here one of the most interesting charities in Illinois. Possessed of several farms, she has given one of them to motherless and fatherless children. The farm consists of forty-seven acres that slope away from the Nachusa station of the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad. The generous woman who makes the gift is a member of the Evangelical Lutheran church, and she has placed the charity in the keeping of the western synods of that denomination. The church has accepted the charge and has appointed a board of trustees.

MAD DOG SCARES BOY TO DEATH

George Ald Collapses in Arms of His Mother, Who Came to Rescue Him.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 13.—After being chased several blocks by a mad dog, 7-year-old George Ald, 1134 South Eleventh street, staggered up the steps of his home and fell dead in the arms of his mother, who had heard his screams and just reached the door. The boy had been playing when the dog, pursued by a crowd, came running down the street and took after him.

Was Sister to B. H. Harrison.

Cincinnati, O., May 13.—Mrs. Elizabeth Harrison Eaton, sister of the late President Benjamin Harrison, died at the family residence at North Bend, a suburb of Cincinnati. President William Henry Harrison was a pioneer in this part of Ohio.

Claim Slavery Yet Practiced.

Fort Worth, Tex., May 13.—Reports of peonage being practiced among negroes on Louisiana plantations are being received by United States officers in Texas and an investigation is about to be made.

They have too many and too expensive amusements.

They have risked a competence in trying to get rich quickly.

They do not think it worth while to save nickels and dimes.

They allow friends to impose upon their good nature and generosity.

The Owl at Dinner

"Walter, where's the bill of fare? Same old dishes, I declare! Rat tail soup and fresh mice stew. Can't you bring me something new?"

"THERE'S THE BILL OF FARE?"

Then the waiter scratched his head. "Chicken's very good," he said. "That's the very thing to fetch up!" Cried the owl. "And lots of ketchup."

"Bring it soon. I have a date" At the club at half past eight. When I speak, I always feel Better if I've had a meal."

Luminous Tree Bewitches

A very remarkable tree grows in Nevada. It is called by the superstitious Indians the witch-tree. It grows to a height of six or seven feet, and its trunk at the base is about three times the size of an ordinary man's wrist. The wonderful characteristic of the tree is its luminosity, which is so great that on the darkest night it can be seen plainly at least a mile away. A person standing near could read the finest print by its light.

A Week at the World's Fair, $21

In a Splendid Hotel Right Inside the Grounds—No Carfare—No Extras—Reservations Accepted Now.

The owners of slender pocket-books can stop all worrying over unknown costs and expenditures in seeing the big Exposition at St. Louis. The inside Inn, the enormous hotel built under the supervision of the World's Fair management right inside the grounds is making special seven-day contracts on the American plan for $21.00. This will cover lodging and three meals and daily admission to the grounds after the visitor has become a registered guest. By taking advantage of this very liberal offer, prospective visitors can figure exactly what their expenses will be before they leave home, merely adding transportation and personal incidentals.

The inside Inn is a new departure in world's fair accommodations. It is three stories high, 400 feet wide, 800 feet long, has 2,257 bedrooms and a dining-hall with a seating capacity of 2,500. Fire-proofing material has been used throughout and most extraordinary and elaborate precautions have been taken against fire. It is run on both the European and American plans, under the personal supervision and management of Mr. El M. Statler, the well-known restaurateur of Buffalo, whose fact alone guarantees the high quality of the cuisine and service. Rates range from $1.50 to $7.00 per day European and $3.00 to $5.00 American plan, including admission in both classes. The comfort and convenience of this residing right within the grounds and the doing away with all wearisome journeys to and fro each night and morning will be obvious to all. Intending visitors should write at once for interesting booklet, giving full details. Address The Inside Inn, Administration Bldg., World's Fair Grounds, St. Louis, Mo.

Coming Attractions.

"It seems almost a sacrilege to suggest such a thing," said Charles B. Hanford to the writer recently, "but I am inclined to think that among the people of the Elizabethan era, Shakespeare's plays were in many instances regarded very much as are the comedies of Hoyt and Clyde Fitch. I do not mean to place the three authors mentioned on a par, but I think that in our administration of Shakespeare's pre-eminent poetic genius we are tempted to overlook the fact that he was a practical as well as a literary man; one who studied the moods of his audience and the prevailing taste of the time quite as assiduously as Charles Frohman or Klaw and Erlanger, and who fully realized that

THE COUNTY TICKET.

The republican county ticket, placed in nomination at the convention last Wednesday, is a strong and winning ticket, and the men nominated will be elected by an old-time majority.

The republicans of the county honored themselves by honoring Wallace Cochran to head the ticket for the office of sheriff, and his nomination by acclamation, was a graceful tribute to a worthy man.

Chas. H. Weirick to succeed himself as Register of Deeds, is also a good nomination, and Ward A. Stevens for Clerk of Court, is a flattering compliment to the younger members of the party.

District Attorney Newhouse will fill this responsible position with credit to the county and no mistake was made in selecting him for the place.

Howard W. Lee was entitled to the office of County Clerk. He received 67 votes in the conventions two years ago, and was the logical candidate this year. Mr. Lee possesses all the qualifications necessary to acceptably fill the office, and he will give the county intelligent service.

The city of Beloit was expected to support Mr. Aldin of Plymouth for Treasurer, as he came from the first district, but at the last moment the delegation switched to Oliver C. Smith of Beloit, and he was nominated. Mr. Smith will make a good treasurer.

C. V. Kersh will continue to fill the office of County Surveyor, while Edward Parker will try his hand as Coroner.

The re-election of Thomas S. Nolan as Chairman, and W. A. Jackson as Secretary of the County Committee was a worthy tribute to two good men. They have both proved themselves peculiarly adapted to the work.

The convention was representative of Rock county republicanism, and while it is to be regretted that the factional fight entered in to it, yet it could not be avoided. The opposition has never shown any disposition to compromise, and had it been in control this year, or even represented by a strong minority the same tactics that are adopted in other parts of the state, would have been the order of the day.

The silence which prevailed concerning the endorsement of the state administration was a little ominous, indicating that the Governor is not the most popular man in this neck of the woods.

WHAT ABOUT HARMONY.

The warfare between the contending factions in the republican party has become so bitter, that all thought of harmony seems to have been forgotten. As time advances it is becoming more and more apparent that the party will never unite under the leadership of Governor La Follette, and the atmosphere is charged with talk of a bolt in the state convention. This would be extremely unfortunate for the party, and would doubtless mean the election of a democratic governor.

The parties to the fight can afford to think twice, before so radical a step is taken, and the conservative element of the party can well afford to let the other side do the bolting, if any bolting is to be done.

It is a serious proposition to disrupt a party, and when it is done it requires years of conciliation to heal the breach.

The Governor must realize by this time that he represents the minority both numerically and in point of influence. If he is willing to assume the responsibility of leading this minority out to hopeless defeat, he should be given the opportunity. It hardly seems possible that the men who have been following him blindly will go with him to this extent, for they must realize that personal ambition, is the only incentive that has prompted the desperate methods pursued.

The welfare of the party is of vastly greater importance than the gratifying of ambition, and this can only be conserved by changing front and electing a more conservative leader. It is needless to talk about harmonizing with a man who does not desire harmony and whose every act says so, more forcibly than language can express. These are critical days for the republican party in Wisconsin. History is making rapidly, and it will live after theoretical reform has vanished in thin air. The Governor should take account of himself, and he will find that he is the one man responsible for present conditions. If not entirely destitute of appreciation, he will come to the rescue with a proposition that will reunite the party, and save it from threatened defeat. He is the only man that can do it, and it remains to be seen whether he is large enough for the occasion.

NOT MUCH HEADWAY.

The two Janesville men who attempted to gain a seat in the Rock county convention last Wednesday, by proxies from Evansville, met with a reception that was a little embarrassing, to say the least.

The temper of the convention was in no mood to be trifled with. The opposition would do well to remember that they are training under a banner stamped by themselves, "no compromise." Stevenson-Hoard and Co. set the pace early in the campaign when they stated in their manifesto that harmony was not desired and the minority of the party has been attempting to read the majority out of the party ever since.

The climax will come at the state convention next week, but the majority will rule, and if there is any bolting, it will be done by the element controlled by the Governor. The tall may succeed in swinging the cat, for a time, but when the cat wakes up, the exercise is reversed. There is a general awakening going on over the state, just now, and a good many republicans are asking themselves the question, "Where are we at?"

The average American citizen believes in fair play, and Rock county republicans enforce their belief by practice. They are attempting to save the La Follette contingency from their own folly, and when these deluded people come to themselves they will be thankful for the effort made in their behalf.

How about a genuine old fashioned Fourth of July celebration for Janesville. To the business men this should appeal as it would keep much spare change within the corporate limits of the city that might otherwise go to some other locality that does not need it.

Mine accidents both east and west seem to be quite the news of the day and the Colorado miners may be lucky they are on a strike and not working if the epidemic keeps up.

When our country was more patriotic than today the Fourth of July always included the reading of the declaration of Independence. How many Janesville school boys have ever read it?

Golf season will soon be here, is here would be proper despite the weather. It takes a good sized storm to deter some of Janesville's enthusiastic players.

Fake schemes still exist although just at present the get-rich-quick period seems to be resting for the time being.

Now that county politics are over the attention of everyone will be turned towards the state and national conventions. Truly political years are full of hustle for some one.

Roosevelt, Spooner, Quarles, Cooper and Fethers were the gentlemen endorsed at the county congressional convention yesterday.

Russia is still leading Japan on say Russian dispatches but we notice the Russians hurry to get out of the way these days.

It will take more than brass buttons to keep some of those politicians in order at the Madison convention.

When Mr. Herast counts up all his votes he may yet be short and then Willie Bryan will tear his hair.

These spring rains are all right in their place but they some times get to be too much of a good thing.

Today Hamilton of the Great Barnum and Bailey show is a preacher as well as a press agent.

Politics were forgotten last evening in the elaborate opening of the New Myers Hotel.

When the nice warm summer really arrives we will forget these cold raw spring days.

Roosevelt seems to be endorsed pretty regularly in all the state conventions these days.

Its costing Russia millions in money and thousands in men to try and whip the Japs.

That St. Louis fair is still running despite the talk of its being closed by the mayor.

That library question discussed by "Old Fog" is worth consideration.

Evidently that state convention will be a warm one.

Small boys are looking forward to swimming time and circus days.

PRESS COMMENT

Racine Journal: There are now 575 delegates elected to the national convention pledged for President Roosevelt, nearly a hundred more than necessary to nominate.

La Crosse Leader-Press: By the close of the republican and democratic state convention next week, a large number of prominent politicians in this state will need a bath and a disinfection of their reputations.

Kenosha Gazette: If it were not for the salaried offices politics would be a most peaceful dream. There would be no politicians.

Madison Democrat: At any rate, Wisconsin politicians are not like their fellows in Oklahoma, who shoot as they think.

Chicago Chronicle: The high school pupil who is reciting his lessons over a telephone is establishing a dangerous precedent whereby pupils inclined to truancy may resort to wireless telegraphy as a means of communicating with the schoolroom.

Watertown Republican: In Minnesota the courts have decided that absolutely smooth bits of metal, once coins, are no longer money, and a person may refuse to take them. A dime is a dime only when it says it is.

Evening Wisconsin: The Brooks comet has been observed, "on the northern border of the constellation Hercules and moving toward the head of Draco." This information does not come from the Russian war correspondents. They are never so specific.

Delavan Enterprise: The annual increase in the nation in the matter of consumption of alcoholic drinks is sufficient to disprove that we are growing more temperate as a nation. Last year the figures were $1,242,948,118, or a per capita cost of about $18.50.

Chicago Inter Ocean: Will Chicago forget what the Iroquois theatre was? Can Chicago forget? The answer that question will find when the Iroquois is again opened as a place of public amusement will show just how deeply the people of Chicago felt when they mourned their 600 dead.

Scranton Tribune: An average of from thirty to forty burglaries a day, representing a yearly property redistribution of $1,800,000, is the record of Chicago, causing the companies which insure against burglary to seriously consider striking that city off their list, notwithstanding that premium rates have doubled. Yet Mayor Harrison talks of running for president.

Waukesha Freeman: The Freeman would be pleased to see Wisconsin represented at the national convention by Senators John C. Spooner and Jos. V. Quarles. Indiana sends her senators to Chicago, why not Wisconsin? Who is there today that has a better outlook as the successor of President Roosevelt, four years hence than Senator Spooner, and why should Wisconsin not stand by him?

Eau Claire Leader: Every day brings forth fresh proofs of the wonderful resource of Northern Wisconsin. The recent safe cracking at Gordon is a case in point. This Gordon is what might be called a one horse place yet when the Yegg men broke into Peter Nelson's place they found $130 in cash, $600 in checks and $1000 in notes. They could not make such a haul as this not in the finest gin palace in New York. There is no place in the United States at present that offers such inducements to immigrants as Northern Wisconsin. Home seekers should make a note of this.

La Crosse Chronicle: It is evident that, in the closing hours of the pre-convention campaign, the governor is in doubt whether he had better fish, or cut bait. The overwhelming change of sentiment recorded in the votes, in which his delegates are cut down from over six hundred to about four hundred from the territory comprehended in the caucuses to date, has so alarmed him that he naturally hesitates to go before the convention and assume the responsibility for impending defeat. A scapegoat is wanted, it offers itself, a willing sacrifice, in the person of Mr. Ira Bradford, a possible candidate for governor. "Once a candidate, always a candidate," is the motto of the dutiful Ira, who was La Follette's opponent four years ago, and became his benchman later. When the convention convenes, if the outlook appears equally for La Follette, he will spring Bradford and attempt to force the Eau Claire man down the throat of the convention as a "harmony" candidate. It may as well be said here that any convention in which it is dangerous for La Follette to appear as a candidate, will make short work of Ira Bradford.

Scranton Tribune: The announcement of the chemist of the agricultural department that a solution of copper sulphate, in the proportion of one to 100,000, in reservoirs, will in three hours kill typhoid and cholera germs, without injuring the water for drinking purposes, follows careful experiments and may for the present, at least, be taken as accurate. But the application should be attempted only by skilled chemists, otherwise disease germs may not be the only things killed.

THE CHICAGO MARKET REPORT

Interesting Gossip from the Closing Reports of the Windy City's Mart.

Wheat.—Bearish crop reports and weak cables were more than the wheat market could stand and further losses were sustained, old July selling about a cent lower and recovering but little before close and showing no important rallying power. There was a little support forthcoming at one time but buying was principally by old crowd and the firming which resulted did not bring any new support and when bearish crop reports came out the early buyers dumped their wheat and market weakened rapidly. Best buying on decline was by shorts with profits and while the market rallied a little there was wheat for sale on all of the small rallies.

Corn.—Market showed a fairly firm undertone today although trade was small there was a small scalping demand which held prices of July around 49c but late in day general selling set in and market broke rapidly but recovered slightly before close. Snow's report was bearish, but close continue to come steady and receipts are small.

Oats.—Market was influenced by crop news and weakness in other markets. There was a steady market early and some good buying in May which was said to be for Armour. This had a stimulating effect on other deliveries. Trade in aggregate was small and there was very little feature to market. Receipts still small and cash demand only fair.

NEW PIPE LINE TO BE LAID AT COUNTY HOUSE

FOR BETTER FIRE PROTECTION

Material Arrived This Morning and Work Will Begin at Once—
Three New Hydrants.

Ample fire protection for the county asylum and poorhouse will be provided before many more days have passed. At the November session of the county board provisions were made for additional hydrants connected with the water-tank built a year ago. These are now to be put in under the direction of the building committee.

Pipe Has Arrived
A carload of six inch pipe arrived this morning and the work of digging the trenches will commence immediately under the supervision of W. W. Hyzer of the Water Works Co. E. T. Fish will string the pipe tomorrow.

Three New Hydrants
There will be three new hydrants—two for the asylum and one for the poorhouse. Additional hose has been provided and when the work is completed the buildings will be well protected against any possible emergency.

TWENTY-FIVE AT FIRST BREAKFAST

Served at the New Myers Hotel This Morning—Opening Ball Was Great Success.

Until an early hour this morning music and merriment reigned supreme at the New Myers opening festivities. During the early part of the evening the guests explored the entire building and were surprised and delighted with all they saw. At nine o'clock dancing commenced in the big dining room, but those who did not participate in these festivities continued to wander through the corridors, full some in their praises of the taste displayed in the appointments. Twenty-five transients sat down to the first breakfast served in the hostelry this morning and a score or more of trunks unloaded from the vans in front of the hostelry furnished pleasing evidence that the real business had commenced. The benches in front of the hotel were well filled most of the morning.

"It is probable that peanuts will be grown in Wisconsin within a year or two," said a local authority on the lucious nut. "The increasing hardness of the peanut plant is making its cultivation possible and profitable in states where Indian corn is grown. The faculty of the Missouri Agricultural college recently made experiments with the plant in different parts of the state, and the success with which the experiments have been attended have given rise to the belief that many counties in our state are adapted to the cultivation of peanuts. A warm, loose soil in which sand predominates is required for its cultivation. According to agricultural college authorities, the color of the soil should be gray, with few or no traces of iron to stain the pods, and any land that will produce corn at the rate of from five to ten bushels per acre will yield as much as seventy-five or eighty bushels of peanuts to the acre. The southern part of Wisconsin particularly is adapted to peanut culture, and I would not be surprised if the farmers took up this industry within a year or two. I understand that several have been raising peanuts in small quantities for their own use, but none have ever thought of the possibility of making it a business proposition. Cold winds and rain will retard the peanuts growth and cause the plant to turn yellow, but the first change to sunny weather will start it again and change the color back to the normal green."

Lefty Postoffices.

Among the Alps there are several postoffices at a height of 6,000 feet, or 7,000 feet. A letter box on the very summit of the Laugardal, from which the postman makes four collections daily, is nearly 10,000 feet above the sea level.

LOCAL POLITICS MUCH DISTURBED

W. A. JACKSON REFUSES TO ALLOW HIS NAME USED.

MANY NAMES MENTIONED

Victor Richardson, John Thoroughgood and Edward Carpenter Are Talked Of.

With the formal withdrawal of W. A. Jackson for the republican nomination for mayor the political field in the city has become more complicated than ever. Just who will be nominated is now a question. Mr. Jackson's withdrawal of his name came this morning after a careful consideration of all sides of the question. His duties as district attorney and mayor, he was afraid, would conflict and he thought best to ask that his name not be used in this connection.

Clear Field
Had Mr. Jackson remained in the field he would certainly have been nominated and would have received the full party vote of the republicans and many of the democrats in the city. He is exceedingly popular and his excellent service in the district attorneyship has made him a host of friends who were anxious to see him accept the office.

Victor Richardson
The friends of Victor P. Richardson are urging him to become a candidate for mayor, and he has decided that he would be willing to accept the nomination for the unexpired term. Mr. Richardson needs no introduction to Janesville people. He is recognized as a progressive, enterprising citizen. He has already filled the office of mayor, and is familiar with the work.

John Thoroughgood
Among the candidates who was mentioned for the nomination is John Thoroughgood. Mr. Thoroughgood has served the city as mayor before and is well-known to the voters. Whether he would accept the nomination or not is not known.

Edward Carpenter
Edward Carpenter is also mentioned in connection with the office. He is one of the large property holders of the city and knows the interests of the city that should call for protection and promotion. He also has executive ability and would make a good official. Whether he would allow his name used has not been learned.

TAKE POSSESSION OF NEW CHURCH

St. Peter's English Lutheran Church Plan for Formal Dedication Services.

On May twenty-ninth the congregation of St. Peter's English Lutheran church will formally occupy their new church quarters, the old First Methodist church. The occupation will not be conducted with any special services, these being reserved for the installation of the pastor, Rev. Christy, three weeks later. At this time an elaborate program, including the dedication of the church, the installation of the pastor, and special services, will be held. The church property was purchased from the Methodist organization for $5,400. The interior decorations will be all new and other minor changes will be made. It is expected that the eastern conference of the English Lutheran church will hold here the week following the installation and dedication services and many of the most prominent men in the church will be here on June 19th, the date now set for these services.

NEWS OF A PERSONAL NATURE

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brown of Redlands, California, are guests of their daughter, Mrs. J. L. Fletcher.

THE LION'S SHARE

Part Done by a Janesville Firm in Refurnishing the New Myers.
Soon after arriving here the new management were advised to interview J. M. Bostwick & Sons, who soon convinced Mr. Donnelly that they were in a position to furnish carpets, curtains, sheets and pillow cases, feather pillows and other merchandise in their line at prices as low as like qualities could be sold for by the largest Chicago and Milwaukee houses. Mr. Donnelly and his sister, Mrs. McNeill, have had wide experience in the hotel business and did not decide hastily about the furnishings, but went over the ground thoroughly before placing orders. The result was, the Big Store sold the lion's share of the carpets, curtains, table linens and napkins, curtain muslins, nets and draperies, and all of the sheets, pillow cases and feather pillows. It demonstrates in a very forcible manner J. M. Bostwick & Sons' ability to figure on large transactions.

WAS AT ONE TIME PREMIER FENCER

William Eckhart, Who Visited Janesville Yesterday, Was Champion of the States.

William Eckhart of Chicago who came here yesterday to confer with Manager Peter L. Myers regarding the decorative work to be done in the local theatre during the coming summer made a pleasant call at the Gazette office. Mr. Eckhart is an enthusiastic fencer and held the championship in United States twelve years ago. He has many interesting reminiscences of contests with the younger Salvini and other actors who were genuine exponents of the fencing art. His company makes a specialty of theatre and lodge hall interiors. McVicker's, Chicago, the Majestic, Grand Rapids, the St. Charles at New Orleans, the New Auditorium at Hot Springs, Ark., and the Calumet theatre at Calumet, Mich., are some of the play-houses which owe their handsome interiors to this concern. Mr. Eckhart says that the whole problem of theatre safety depends on the exits and thinks that question as to whether a building is fireproof or not is a secondary one.

Attorneys A. A. Jackson, William Ruger, E. D. McGowan and Stanley D. Tallman had legal business before the supreme court at Madison yesterday. Mr. Tallman was admitted to practice before the supreme court, Mr. E. D. McGowan introducing him to the court.

Korean Houses.
The average Korean lives in a thatched cottage having three rooms in a row. The kitchen fire is at one end and its chimney at the other, the fire passing under the rooms warms them.

Cousin Rabbit Trapped

"Hello, Cousin Squirrel!" cried Mr. Rabbit. "How are you?"

"I am very well, I thank you," replied Mr. Squirrel. "How are you, Cousin Rabbit?"

"Fine!" answered Mr. Rabbit. "You always do look well, cousin," said Mr. Squirrel.

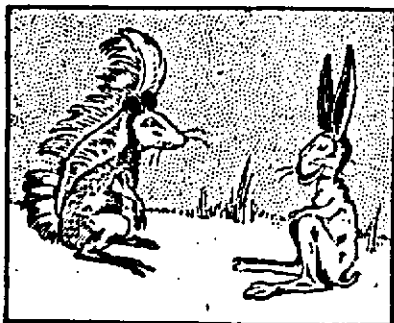

"Yes, and I always feel well, and you would, too, if you lived as I do."

"And how do you live?" asked the squirrel.

"Why, I live on the best of everything. While you are hunting around for hard-shelled nuts to crack and pick I am feasting on the finest vegetables that grow—cabbage and carrots and beets and celery and tomatoes and corn and peas, and fruit too. Think of it—rosy apples and pears and grapes! Doesn't it make your mouth water?"

"I believe I would rather have the nuts," said the squirrel.

"Oh, my, that's just like you!" replied Mr. Rabbit. "Now, why don't you try a change of food? Come with me, and I will show you how to eat and what to eat to enjoy life.

"Just as I expected! Some man has put a big bunch of lettuce in this box for safe keeping. He didn't think I would find it. Look in there, Cousin Squirrel, and you will be able to see it."

"Sure enough, there it is!" exclaimed the squirrel as he looked in.

"Now, I am going to let you have it just to show you how good it is," said the rabbit.

"But I don't want it," replied the squirrel.

"Well, then, if you act that way about it I'll get it and eat it myself," said the rabbit, and into the box he ran.

Click, click! A little door of the box sprang shut as quick as you could wink, and poor Mr. Rabbit was tightly caught in a trap that had been set for him that very morning.

Over the fields ran a man, and up into a tree sprang the squirrel, and as poor Mr. Rabbit was carried away the squirrel shed a tear and declared: "I believe I'd rather have the nuts to eat after all."—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Something Unusual.

Little Bessie was so accustomed to seeing the baby crawl around the room on his hands and knees that she thought it was his natural mode of traveling. One day he succeeded in standing up with the aid of a chair, and Bessie, very much astonished, ran to her mother and exclaimed: "Oh, mamma, come quick! Baby is standing up on his hind legs."

Japanese Servants.

The Japanese women have no servant problem to solve, simply because they do not look down on servants as such. Visitors bow as low to servants as to their mistress, and if the mistress is away the servants serve tea and entertain the visitors.

Repack American Prunes.

Immense quantities of California prunes are handled in Bordeaux, which is the center of the prune trade of the world, and after being repacked are re-exported to the United States.

Significance of Ear Rings.

The ear rings worn by Italian women indicate the part of Italy the wearers come from; the longer the ear rings the farther south the original homes of the women.
